

<http://www.southjerseylocalnews.com/articles/2016/03/03/news/doc56d889050599f898181664.txt>

Goodwill Industries of Southern New Jersey & Philadelphia Installs Executive Board Officers

Thursday, March 03, 2016

Goodwill Industries of Southern New Jersey & Philadelphia recently introduced its new slate of 2016-2018 Board of Trustees Executive Officers. Haddonfield Mayor Jeff Kasko administered the oath of office at the nonprofit agency's recent Installation Dinner at Tavistock Country Club.

Taking over as Chair of Goodwill's Board is Salem resident Lou Colameco. He is the Owner & President of Wellshire Farms based in Swedesboro, NJ. Colameco is also the founder of the Barbara A. Colameco Cancer Transportation Fund (www.baccancerfund.org), which helps cancer patients throughout the Greater Philadelphia area get to and from chemotherapy and radiation appointments and provides monetary assistance to cover co-pays, cab fares and massage chairs for comfort.

Philadelphia resident Frank Schickling is the new Vice Chair. He is Senior Director/Team Leader with BNY Mellon Wealth Management based in Philadelphia. Schickling is a member of The Union League of Philadelphia and past Board member of the Palmyra-Riverton Athletic Association.

Moorestown resident Frank Giordano, President of Vincentown-based Atlantic Trailer & Leasing and President & CEO of The Philly Pops, takes over as Secretary. A firm believer in giving back to the community, he holds directorships at the Philadelphia Youth Orchestra, The Abraham Lincoln Foundation, the Mann Center for Performing Arts, Burlington County Boys Scouts, the National Italian American Foundation, Coriell Institute for Medical Research and Studio Incamminati, just to name a few.

John Nihill, CPA, of Marlton, continues in the position of Treasurer. He is a partner at Wipfli, LLP located in Media, PA and Philadelphia. In addition, Nihill is a finance council member at St. Joan of Arc Parish and Grade School in Marlton and is a member of The Philadelphia Foundation's Board of Managers.

Brigantine resident Ron Weiss will serve as Member-at-Large. He is the Senior Vice President of Corporate Synergies based in Mt. Laurel, NJ and the benefactor behind Virtua Hospital's Ron P. Weiss Dining Hall in Voorhees, NJ.

Lastly, Gregory Montanero, VP & Executive Director of Drexel University's Federal Relations Office of Government & Community Relations, will continue to serve on the Executive Committee as Past Chair. His other charitable affiliations in the region include serving as vice president of The Union League of Philadelphia, president of Greater Philadelphia Traditions, Inc., and on the boards of Lincoln University, The Penn Club, Pennsylvania Employee Federal Credit Union, Dad Vail Regatta Organizing Committee, Philadelphia Hospitality, Bartram's Gardens and many others.

Goodwill's volunteer Board of Trustees provides the vision, policy, leadership and resources that ensure Goodwill fulfills its charitable mission of providing job training and career services that prepare local residents with disabilities and disadvantages for competitive employment