Summer Arts Swing Into Season

The Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope has already launched its fifth season of professional summer theater at the venerable landmark theater on the river. Currently concluding its production of "An Act of God" on June 16, the schedule follows with the hit lullaby-of-Broadway musical "42nd Street," running June 29 through August 4.

The popular musical based on the 1956 get together of Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis, and Carl Perkins, "Million Dollar Quartet," takes the stage from August 10 through September 15. And there's even a post-summer presentation: American playwright Paul Rudnick's hit comedy "I Hate Hamlet," November 8 through December 1.
