“PEACE AND LOVE”

TJP, The Philly-Based Band, LAUNCHES NEW CD CALLED “PEACE AND LOVE”

Tony Miceli (vibes), Paul Jost (vocal), Kevin MacConnell (bass) plus Tim Horner (drums) and John Swana (electronic valve instrument – E.V.I.)

Friday, October 20 – 8 to 9:30 p.m.
Chris’ Jazz Cafe

When: Friday, October 20, 2017 – 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Where: Chris’ Jazz Café, 1421 Sansom Street, Philadelphia

What: The City of Brotherly Love and the hometown of band members of TJP is the perfect place to launch a new CD called ... PEACE AND LOVE!

TJP (formerly known as The Jost Project) includes Tony Miceli-vibraphone, Paul Jost-vocal/harmonica, Kevin MacConnell-bass with Tim Horner-drums and John Swana (E.V.I. – electronic valve instrument.) They’ll be playing such songs as “Get Together”, “Wonderful World”, “Put a Little Love in Your Heart” and “America the Beautiful” that they interpret in a jazz format. In these tumultuous times, the band hopes the messages in their album will resonate, bringing back reminders of the hippie generation when dialogue and constructive action for peace and love took place everywhere.

About TJP:

TJP is a band of highly acclaimed musicians who interpret classic rock as jazz whose music is played on SiriusXM radio. They are devoted to reaching new audiences for jazz with innovative arrangements of music by such artists as The Beatles, Simon & Garfunkel, Aerosmith, Led Zep-pelin, Blind Faith and many others. They play frequently throughout Pennsylvania, in New York and New Jersey and have toured in South Korea and Ireland. For more information about TJP, visit www.thejostproject.com. ###
