Speaking of genre-blending, TJP – formerly known as The Jost Project – was founded on the idea of twisting classic rock hits into jazz shapes. The Philly-based band, which brings together vibraphonist Tony Miceli, vocalist Paul Jost and bassist Kevin MacConnell, will celebrate their debut album on October 20 at Chris' Jazz Café. Fully embracing the repertoire's hippie ethos with the title Peace and Love, the album also features drummer Doug Hirlinger and guest saxophonist Joel Frahm. [TIX / INFO]
